Pacific Potash Strengthens Brazil Exploration and Development Team

01.03.2013 | The Newswire

Vancouver, British Columbia - March 1, 2013 - Pacific Potash Corporation (TSX-V: PP; OTCQX: PPOTF; FSE: P9P, "The Company") is pleased to announce that it has retained the services of Mr. Andre Costa P.Geo a Professional Geologist with over 18 years of experience working in Canada and Brazil. Mr. Costa has worked for the Saskatchewan Geological Survey, provided project management in Uranium and Diamond exploration, and most recently was the Potash Project Chief Geologist for the Forbes and Manhattan Group. Mr. Costa was responsible for the Potash exploration technical program in the Amazonas Basin, Brazil. He provided project management, compiled all regional data and developed Potash Brazil's drilling program. Mr. Costa is a dual citizen of Canada and Brazil and is fluent in English, Portuguese and Spanish.

Mr. Balbir Johal commented, "Mr. Costa's vast knowledge of a previously almost non-explored basin will be invaluable to the Pacific Potash team. Over the last five years in the Amazonas basin Mr. Costa has been instrumental in compiling historic data, unlocking the potash sequences and basin geometry for Potash Brazil. He has overseen the drilling of over 20 potash wells in the basin, supervised the compilation of data for Potash Brazil's technical reports, and from a potash exploration perspective he is one the most knowledgeable individuals regarding the basin. Mr. Costa feels confident that Potash Brazil's successes are only the beginning of things to come in the Amazon."

Pacific Potash's Brazilian team is now comprised of the following members:

Luis Silva, Country Manager, Brazil - Mr. Silva a geologist, has 20 years exploration experience in Brazil managing several exploration campaigns and is responsible for drilling off several of Jaguar Mining's gold deposits. Luis Silva is currently heading all of Amarillo Gold s (AGC- AGC V) exploration work on their two gold exploration assets in Brazil that have a collective 1.6 million ounces of gold. Luis was also responsible in staking the potash claims for Western Potash in the Amazonas Basin.

Andre Costa P.Geo, Exploration Manager, Brazil - Mr Costa, an Exploration geologist with over 18 years of experience in Brazil and Canada. Andre was instrumental in the development of Potash Brazil's world class Amazonas Basin Potash discovery. He oversaw the compilation of historic data and execution of a successful drill program, the first of its kind in the Amazonas Basin.

William Freire, Legal Counsel, Brazil - For more than 20 years, William Freire has specialized in Mining, Environmental and Energy Law, Metallurgy and the Steel Industry, offering unrivaled specialized legal assistance to national and international clients through the development of their mining activities in Brazil. William has authored over 20 books along with several university law textbooks that are in use throughout South America.
