Vancouver, April 26, 2021 - Eric Finlayson, Chairman of Cordoba Minerals Corp. (TSXV: CDB) (OTCQB: CDBMF) (otherwise "Cordoba" or the "Company") is pleased to announce the appointment of Sarah Armstrong-Montoya as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company, effective today.

"Sarah has had a long history with the Ivanhoe group of companies, having held various senior management positions since she joined in 2010. Sarah joined Cordoba in 2016 as Vice President, General Counsel and in June 2018 became President of subsidiary Minerales Cordoba S.A.S. Since then, Sarah has been managing all in-country operations in Colombia and has successfully established Cordoba as a respected explorer and developer within the country. Prior to joining the Ivanhoe Group, Sarah worked on several prominent global mining transactions during roles at Xstrata Copper, Linklaters and Corrs Chambers Westgarth, serving in positions both as in-house and external counsel. Within the Ivanhoe Group, Sarah was formerly General Counsel of HPX and Chief Legal Counsel, Asia of SouthGobi Resources Ltd.

Sarah has extensive experience in emerging markets, having directed many transactions throughout Asia-Pacific and Latin America. Her emerging markets expertise ranges from mining-specific projects to structured capital market transactions, M&A, takeovers, complex cross-border joint ventures and earn-ins, and international arbitration proceedings, bringing a wealth of international experience to her new Cordoba role. Furthermore, she is fully bilingual in Spanish and English.

"I am honoured to be appointed as President and CEO of Cordoba and proud to be working with a group that prioritizes environmental and social performance, including the empowerment and recognition of women in mining. Colombia is becoming a major player in Latin American mining, and its significance in global mining will only continue to grow over the next decade. I am looking forward to making Cordoba part of this success," said Ms. Armstrong-Montoya.
